

The relationships between the entities are chosen because:

One customer can purchase zero or more tickets (one-to-zero or many relationship).

One movie can have zero or more tickets sold (one-to-zero or many relationship).

A concession can be included in one or more tickets (one-to-many relationship).

One ticket is associated with one customer, one movie, and one or zero concessions (three one-to-many relationships).